Senate Committee Reports Losses To Government Are Due To Lavish Rather Than Modest Living

By Telegraph to The Freeman.
Washington, Dec. 15.—Tax evasions amounting to millions of dollars, have been revealed by the special senate committee investigating the internal revenue bureau, it was announced today by its chairman, Senator Couzens of Michigan.

The government's greatest tax losses, Couzens said, were discovered in the administration of tax assessments against corporations. Millions in taxes were lost to the government, he report said, by illegal allowances to corporations for amortization claims, "washed sales of stocks" and illegal commitments for war time facilities.

In discussing the tax evasions, Douzens declared the committee did not charge dishonesty in the bureau but rather "found much looseness in the execution of the work."

Young Wolves in Packs

As a rule, wolves travel in packs only in the winter. The mating season for most wolves is in December and January. The young are born in burrows usually excavated by the wolves themselves. During the period of confinement the male feeds the female. There are generally from four to six cubs in a litter. They are blind for 21 days and are suckled for about two months. At the end of one month they are able to eat half digested food disgorged by the mother. They usually quit their parents in November or December, just before the pairing season, when they are less than a year old, but frequently the young remain together six or eight months longer. Wolves reach maturity in about three years. Hence the only young wolves found in packs are half-grown wolves which have left their mothers.—Pittsburgh Courier.

Pythons Sold by Yard

A seven-foot python can be had for about $20, according to snake dealers, while a length of 20 feet—found in the royal apartments of the Queen—runs the price up from $600 or $700. Boas come smaller. Slither feet is said to be the maximum at an age of eight or ten years. In price these also start at about $20 and run as high as $200.

Taught Care of Books

Every child in Los Angeles upon entering the third grade is taught how to borrow books from the library and how to take care of books. The children's librarian visits each third-grade room and explains to the pupils the use of the library. Following this a letter is written to the parents urging their co-operation in the correct use of the library. In addition a booklet, entitled "How To Borrow Books," is distributed among the library's patrons.

Oldest Juniper Tree

What is believed to be the oldest juniper tree in the world is now being protected by the forest service of the United States Department of Agriculture. The tree is in southern Utah, and a careful examination shows the age of the tree to be not less than 3,000 years, even placing it on a par with the big redwood trees in California. The diameter, breast high, is 7 feet 6 inches and the height is 67 feet. The forest service has erected a sign near the tree, giving the interesting facts about the aged veteran.—Bakersfield Telegram News.

KID MCCOY FIGHTS LIFE'S GREATEST BATTLE

Norman McCoy, the famous old McCoy of 89 years, who was fighting his greatest battle, this time for his life, in a Los Angeles court, where he is on trial for the murder of Mrs. Thelma McCoy, his granddaughter. His oldest son, John McCoy, 47, a well known member of Snake Rock, was the chief prosecutor against him, though she fought hard for her brother. McCoy's mother died while he was in jail, and he spent, as a child, around his mother, the faded portrait of her.

KINGSTON, N. Y., DEC. 15, 1934.

The country at large will be pretty well satisfied if the present session of Congress does little in the way of general legislation. The people and industries and institutions of the United States are in pretty good condition and not at all suffering for want of more laws. Undoubtedly some features of new legislation are desirable, but the country is not urgently in need at the present time.

It is beginning to be recognized by the amusement providers that the radio takes money out of their pockets by keeping a heavy percentage of amusement lovers at home. There is significance in the announcement of "Tex" Rickard that hereafter no microphones are to be posted beside the rings in which his costly pugilists give their performances and no more "announcers" are to give distant and non-paying multitudes so much information about his fights that they are content not to be actual paying spectators.

The bolshevik ambassador to France has arrived in Paris and set himself up in the Russian Embassy. With his coming there has been a marked lowering of French enthusiasm for Russian recognition, and French papers are printing warnings that the soviet embassy may become the center of extensive communist propaganda in France. The French government should have looked before it leaped. Moscow is recognized, and Paris must take the consequences until some one appears with courage to undo what has been done.

WHEN A PRESIDENT TRAVELS

President Coolidge traveled to Chicago like an ordinary citizen on a regular train, disregarding the usual Presidential custom of either employing a special train or using a special car. Whether this was to teach the nation a lesson in economy or frugality, or in deference to the old tradition of "plain living and high thinking," or was merely the instinctive preference of an unassuming and thrifty man, it has called forth protest. The New York Times, for example, pointedly remarks:

The most valuable citizen of the United States, the one who can be least spared, is President Coolidge. He is the hope of the nation. The success of his administration is desired by men and women of all parties who place the welfare of the country above political considerations. A life so precious should not be exposed to ordinary risks. It is the duty of Mr. Coolidge to follow the example of other Presidents who availed themselves of guards to protect their persons and took precautions to reduce the hazards of traveling about the country. The American people care nothing for the extra expense in his case. An accident to him, fatal or disabling, would be more costly than a thousand special trains. Moreover, the American people like to see their President traveling in state.

Noting that there is a special expense fund at the disposal of the President, the Times rightly adds that "if inadequate, Congress should increase it."

KIDD'S "ONLY" TREASURE.

A few weeks ago readers as well as writers of old romance of the sea were rather startled by the published assertion that Captain Kidd was no pirate at all but merely a chaser of pirates, carrying letters of marque and reprisal from the Prince of Orange. Now comes assertion even more disturbing, at least in the case of the promoters of a certain industry at points along the Atlantic seaboard, that Captain Kidd buried treasure in America only once and that it was dug up and culled within a short time. Writing in the November number of the American Mercury, Hiram H. Cooper says:

At the eastern end of Long Island Sound is a small wooded island now known as Gardiner's Island. In June, 1690, an honest colonist named John Gardiner, its owner and occupant, for a small consideration permitted Captain Kidd to bury there a large chest. Kidd's "Gold Bag," Robert Louis Stevenson's "Treasure Island," Washington Irving's "Wolfen's Roost," and a thousand other yarns to the contrary notwithstanding, this was and is the one and only genuine Captain Kidd's treasure. I add that the chest was dug up within a fortnight upon Lord Baltimore's orders. The story included about 200 bars of silver, an emerald silver but containing six diamonds, a gold ring, six bags of gold, a handkerchief of gold, a coral necklace, two silver candlesticks, 67 rubies and other precious stones. The gold weighed 1,111 ounces and the silver 2,333 ounces. This appraisal of the Colonial committee fixed the value at approximately 5,000 pounds sterling.

According to report confiding persons are still hunting for Captain Kidd's buried treasure at points on our coast. These would do well to employ a reliable historical student to verify or discredit the above showing before they spend any more money digging at the present high rates for unskilled manual labor.

That Body of Yours By James W. Barton, M. D.

(Registered in accordance with the Copyright Act.)

THE QUIET LIVER.

I sometimes think that if the liver could talk as loudly as the stomach when things go wrong, that it would be worth a lot to suffering humanity.

If the throat or nose gets irritated you hear from it, and likewise from the stomach, intestine and other parts.

But this liver of yours, the largest organ in your body, the most important organ from the building up or tearing down processes of the body, keeps strangely silent when things go wrong.

When you remember that at least one-quarter of the blood can usually be found in the liver at any time, you can grasp some idea of its importance.

Of course, when you think of all the work it has to do in manufacturing bile, manufacturing sugar, and likewise storing sugar for any future need, then you can realize why it needs so much blood.

But this very efficiency, to our poor human minds, seems to have its dangers. One investigator of the liver has demonstrated that four-fifths of the liver could be removed, before there would be any disturbance noted by the body.

And then what shows? Often only a little yellowish discoloration of the skin.

Now what is my thought? That it is possible for your liver to be somewhat sluggish, your bile a little too thick, you are eating too much fat and sugar, and yet are perhaps wondering why you feel sluggish, ambitious, or just a bit off color.

If you are in your teens or under forty, the simple matter of bending your body from side to side, running a few steps in the one spot in your bedroom, to make the diaphragm sink a little lower, will stimulate the circulation in your liver, and prevent congestion.

Cutting down on your fats and starches might also be wise.

If you are past middle age, but are not losing weight or strength, and your color is all right, nothing serious can be the matter. A little bending will not hurt you either.

Loss of weight and a yellowish color, would call for an examination by your family doctor.

He did not come back.

Uncle's Will Great Help

They were discussing the things which help a man to obtain success in the world, when one young man said:

"There's nothing like love of character. Now, that's mine. He's gone to make his way in the world. He's a will of his own, you know."

"That Brown has something better in his drawer," argued his friend.

"What's that?"

"A will of his under."

CHRISTMAS SHOPPING

During the season of Christmas shopping, great care should be taken to avoid colds that are likely to result in grip and pneumonia. The excitement of the time, the sudden change from the close and suffocating air of the big stores to the street, are all dangerous.

The value of Father John's Medicine in treating and preventing colds, grip and pneumonia, has been proven by over 69 years' success. It is a pure and wholesome food medicine—builds new flesh and strength to fight off colds and grip. Its gentle laxative effect drives out impurities. Father John's Medicine is guaranteed free from alcohol or dangerous drugs.

THE LITTLE PERSONAL GIFT.

(By Eleanor Gunn)

Whatever else may be said of the modern glove, it continues to make a gesture toward romance. From time immemorial, lady's glove has exhaled a strong aroma of romance. For the formality which is again deemed desirable, every unit of the costume must, of course, be in accord. There is then the gold embellished glove, not an eccentric as it sounds, since the gold is frequently introduced as the lining, or as a tracery on the silk lining of the gauntlet.

This same formality brings in a demand for the long white glove for evening, though candor compels the admission that more women go without than with gloves—the grand tier of boxes at the Metropolitan perhaps providing the glittering exception.

There is a preference accorded gloves which tone in with one's furs or match one's shoes, and in such shades the tone on tone models are smart, enough to win favor—stitching, overlays, and so on, giving needed motif for introducing another tone.

The element of contrast is very important in one's selection.

of gloves, this applying also to one's choice of the floral corsage worn at girle or shoulder, according to one's preference, the shoulder placement, being the newer one.

OUR DAILY PATTERN.

A New and Smart Style.

4926. Figured silk and satin are here combined. This is also a good model for charmeuse with braid (trimming or embroidery for decoration). In tulle silk and broadcloth it is very attractive. The "tunic" may be worn over any slip or sleeveless under dress.

The pattern is cut in 7 sizes. 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46 and 48 inches bust measure. A 38 inch size requires 6 1/2 yards of one material 40 inches wide. If made as illustrated it will require 7 1/2 yards of figured material for the underslip and cuff facings, and 3 1/2 yards of plain material for the "tunic." The width of the skirt at the foot is 1 1/4 yard.

A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 12c in coin or stamps by the Pattern Department, The Freeman, Kingston, N. Y. Be sure to state the size wanted.

IN BIG PLANT.

The Cooperative G. L. F. Exchange of Ithaca, N. Y., recently completed the purchase of a part interest in the Summers Fertilizer Company of Baltimore, according to a statement made public by N. F. Webb of Cortland, president of the Exchange.

The Summers Manufacturing plant, which is located on deep water in the Baltimore harbor, was formerly owned by the Hubbard Fertilizer Company. During the past several weeks repairs and additions have been made to complete its facilities for handling a large volume of mixed fertilizer, and phosphate and fertilizer ingredients. The plant is now in operation.

"The board of directors and management of the G. L. F. has contemplated this move for some time," says Mr. Webb's statement. "It is in accord with our policy of controlling the manufacture of the farm supplies purchased by the Exchange for farmers."

"This arrangement gives G. L. F. patrons the advantage of combining their fertilizer volume with that of the Summers Company and it gives the Exchange the very important advantage of an experienced manufacturing personnel already employed. The location of the plant is particularly desirable, as it can receive raw materials direct from ocean going vessels."

"The announcement has already been made to G. L. F. shareholders that savings in the fertilizer manufacturing and sale resulting from volume, economical management, etc., during the last year or two will be held as a special dividend for each savings will be made to the G. L. F. patrons as a dividend fund."

THE POLICEMAN'S HORSE

"Today," said the policeman's horse to some of the other horses, "we had a picnic—my master and I."

"A picnic?" the horses exclaimed in their own fashion. "Nigh, nigh! Weren't you on duty today?"

"Yes, we were on duty, but we had a picnic, too," the horse answered. "I'll have to tell you about it," he said.

"An automobile came along and in it were some people. That's the usual way of course."

"An automobile doesn't come along, it itself."

"But no matter, you understand me. The people in the automobile asked my master how to get to a place where they wanted to have their picnic."

"There were a number of children and they had a fine dog with them, too."

"Then told my master that when they stopped at their picnic grounds the dog sat on the step along the side of the automobile so that people passing by would know that he was not a stray dog looking for food but that he was really a part of the picnic party."

"They said he always did this, except for a few moments now and then when he went for a run or a swim or chasing sticks."

"My master and the people chatted for quite a few moments and then my master told them how to get to the place they wanted to reach."

"Before they left they offered my master some candy and my master said:

"Thank you, and my horse will have one if you don't mind. He loves

"Oh, Yes, We Had Our Picnic."

sweet things. He has what is known as a "sweet tooth."

"Well, they fixed up a little box and in it were some pieces of cake and some candy and some sugar as a special treat for me."

"Of course I get sugar very often but it is always a 'special treat' for me."

"Then they hurried on."

"But my master and I had a picnic between busy times. Oh, it was such fun!"

"My master told the people that I was brave but that I was enough of a 'child' to care for sweets."

"And he said he was a 'child' that way, too. But he didn't say anything about his bravery, and of course they couldn't understand me."

"I think perhaps they knew by the way I looked that I was pretty devoted to my master and I think perhaps they had an idea he was brave."

"For he looks so splendid and he has such a fine face. But then you all know what I think of my master."

"After they had gone on we nibbled at something good every once in a while."

"Oh, yes, we had our picnic, the master and I."

"And the master stroked me and patted me as he does so often, and I thought, just as I think so often, how splendid it was to have such a master."

"They say I do my work well and that I'm filled with courage and wisdom, but kindness and good treatment have helped me more than anyone knows."

"I should have liked to have told the people these things and I should have liked to have told them of the little girl my master saved the other day—she would have been run over if it hadn't been for my master, and he risked his life, too."

"Oh, I should have liked to have told them so many, many things he has done."

"For sometimes it seems to me that the brave things the master has done are so particularly, unusually, beautifully brave."

"Yes, I wished today I could speak. I don't need to speak to the master. He understands. He knows what I want and how I feel and how much I love him."

"But he doesn't seem to know how magnificently brave he is. It comes to him so naturally, I suppose."

SEASONABLE FOODS

Even if one serves the heavy meal at noon, a nicely baked and seasoned potato is enjoyed at night. The following is a main dish in itself:

Baked Potatoes and Cheese.—Bake six large potatoes and cut into halves lengthwise, scoop out the centers and mash thoroughly. Rub one-fourth pound of rich cheese through a coarse sieve, add to one-half cupful of hot milk, mix with the potato, adding a beaten egg, and seasoning, beat until light and well-mixed. Refill the potato shells and bake in a hot oven for ten minutes.

Old English Date Pie.—Beat two eggs, add three-fourths of a cupful of sugar, one-half teaspoonful of salt, one teaspoonful of cinnamon, one-fourth teaspoonful each of nutmeg, allspice and clove, one cupful of sour cream, one tablespoonful of fine crumbs, one cupful of finely diced dates. Mix all together, beating the eggs lightly and pour into a pastry-lined pie plate. Sprinkle one-half cupful of coconut over the top and set into a very hot oven to bake the crust, then lower the heat and finish cooking.

Nugget Cake.—Cream together one and one-fourth cupfuls of sugar and one-half cupful of butter. Add two well-beaten eggs, three-fourths of a cupful of milk, four squares of melted chocolate and two cupfuls of pastry flour, sifted with one-half teaspoonful of salt, two teaspoonfuls of baking powder, one-fourth of a teaspoonful each of cloves and nutmeg. Mix well and add one teaspoonful of vanilla and bake in layers for twenty minutes. Remove from the tin and spread with boiled frosting flavored with maple.

Potato and Onion Pancakes.—Grate four potatoes and chop very fine six medium-sized onions. Place in a bowl and add one egg, one cupful of milk, three cupfuls of flour, one teaspoonful of salt, one-half teaspoonful of white pepper, two teaspoonfuls of baking powder. Beat to mix well and cook in the usual manner for pancakes.

TODAY WE CELEBRATE

LOUIS AGASSIZ.

It is just fifty-four years ago today that Agassiz died. It can be said of him that in the fields of science, particularly in paleontology, ichthyology and geology his work made his name immortal. Louis Agassiz was in many ways a remarkable man. His individuality was such as is seldom seen in great men, as he had an unusual degree of a combination of big heart, big brain and a very winsome personality. He thought as straight as the path of a cannon-ball, loved as tenderly as a little child, and yet he could—and did—stand by the profundity of his scientific acumen. In the rotunda of the Museum of Natural History in New York the bust of Agassiz occupies its niche in Science's Hall of Fame with the great ones of the field of natural history.

SARAH JENNINGS.

Sarah Jennings, the wife of the great General John, Duke of Marlborough, has been painted in terms far too black by Lord Macaulay, a fact easily accounted for by her coming into opposition to his lordship's hero, King William. Her worst fault was her imperious temper. It was her destiny to become the intimate friend of King James's second daughter, the Princess Anne, a gentle and timid woman of limited understanding, who, in her public career, felt the need of a strong mind to lean on. Sarah, Duchess of Marlborough, was born May 23, 1666, and there is something very conflicting in the accounts she gives of her friendship for the princess. She once wrote: "Anne justly felt a relationship of equality was necessary for friendship and she detected and treatment by me which showed any display or ceremony due her rank, therefore she one day pronounced that I take the name of Mrs. Freeman and she take the name of Mrs. Maxwell, and that we be known

A WORD FOR BEGINNERS.

The best way to solve a crossword puzzle is to run quickly over the list of horizontal and vertical synonyms and compare them to the spaces in that puzzle extending crosswise or downwise from the number of the synonym. Some word which will just fit in the number of space available will quickly occur to you in some instance, giving you a foundation from which to solve the more difficult words. The words must interlock perfectly.

SCHOOLS FOR THE BLIND.

The first school for the blind in America was the Perkins Institution and Massachusetts Asylum for the Blind, founded at Boston in 1822, through the influence and energetic efforts of Dr. Samuel Gridley Howe, husband of Julia Ward Howe, and the maintenance of Col. Thomas Handasyd Perkins. The latter, whose name has been perpetuated by the institution, he founded for 140 years ago today. The success of establishment of many similar institutions all over the United States and Canada. This terrible affliction among the Indians and negroes than among the whites, although tracheoma is prevalent among the whites of Kentucky and Tennessee, giving these states a ratio of blind people, the ratio is highest, owing to the large Mexican and Indian populations of those states. Thanks to the blind, a large proportion of the sightless who are without relatives who will support them are now fully employed and able to support themselves.

RECEIVED ON KINGSTON SATS NEWSPAPER

The Newburgh News says editorially under the heading "Kingston City Being Improved On":

Kingston, the only city in Ulster county, is up in arms against the board of supervisors, the majority of members of which, it claims, represent an undue proportion of county and state taxes to be placed on the municipality to the relief of the townships. The Kingston journal has directed the corporation counsel to appeal to the state tax commission against an increase of a million and a quarter dollars in the city's assessment, made by the supervisors on the report of their equalization committee. This increase follows an addition to the city's valuation last year of $1,352,000.

Mayor Block avers that assessments of townships show they assess at 25 to 50 per cent, "whereas it can be proved the assessment in some towns is as low as 12 per cent." The mayor asserts the city's actual gain in valuation the past year has been less than a quarter of a million dollars, or but one-third the amount the supervisors credit it with. He says if the increase is allowed to stand, "we are going to have the largest tax rate ever known in the City of Kingston, a result that will have a tendency to retard our growth, and encourage building operations."

Apparently Ulster county is far behind Orange in assessment reform. An increasing number of our townships are putting property on the tax roll at almost its full value, and those which persist in making low assessments have their share of increased hundreds of thousands of dollars by the supervisors' equalization committee.

While township supervisors outnumber city supervisors in Orange county, the three municipalities are treated very fairly in the equalization of assessments. The committee in charge, headed by Mr. McCallan of the town of Woodbury, desires to do only equal and exact justice to townships and cities alike.

Hard to Get Rid Of It.

The wife of one of the movie actors got a divorce in thirteen minutes from the time her petition was filed. Some actors will probably continue, however, to cling to the old superstition that thirteen is unlucky.

Poor Jimmy.

Mother—Didn't I tell you I would punish you if I found you fighting? What were you arguing about?

Jimmy—Willie said you were 10 years older than his mother.

Mother—Ten years. The idea.

Jimmy—Don't worry, ma, I learned him to say you were 20 years older.

Dub—I'm going to marry a girl who can take a joke.

Kay—Don't worry; that's the only kind of a girl you'll get.

DAD has always wanted an open car. He likes freedom. He wants speed—and flexibility. He loves to open 'er up on a smooth country road and feel the wind whip past his face.

But Mother . . . she wants comfort and protection—she's thinking of that rainy day when the youngsters have to go to school.

And here at last is a new-type car to meet this old-time family problem.

It's a glorious—joyous—free, airy open car when you want it.

Then when it storms it may be changed to a comfortable, weather-tight enclosed car with complete protection from wind and rain.

Thirty seconds is all it takes—simply lower the roller side enclosures, without even leaving your seat. You've never seen anything like it before.

The Duplex body is framed and shaped in steel. Upper and lower sections are integral. Thus its construction is substantial and its beauty lasting.

It banishes once and for all the trouble of attaching the old-type curtains—makeshift at best.

No more hurried efforts hunting for the right curtain while the storm beats in.

No more exposure, through holes torn in them, while trying to obtain, for the emergency, the protection given by a closed car.

To the man unwilling to sacrifice the thrill of open car motoring—to the woman who wants closed car protection right at her finger tips—this car offers a wonderful new adventure—it marks a new era in fine car possession.

In justice to yourself—see the new Duplex now. Only Studebaker makes it.

Kingston Again In First Place

Morgenweckers Beat Greenpoint and Yonkers Over the Week End—Play Paterson Here Wednesday.

O'Brien Sustains Kingston Protest

President John J. O'Brien of the Metropolitan League has sustained the protest of Manager Morgenweck of the Kingston team to throw out the game played with the Brooklyn team at the latter's court about a month ago.

Manager Morgenweck charged that the fans interfered with the players in the third extra period, when a number of the players were struck by excited fans. O'Brien ruled in favor of the local manager and decided that a five minute period be played to decide the winner.

The opinion of the league head changes the present standing of the teams in the league giving the local representatives a greater edge.

Walsh's All American Team

(By Davis J. Walsh.)
By Telegraph to The Freeman.
New York, Dec. 15.—An end from the south, another from the shade of the classic New Haven Elms, if any, a tackle from Pennsylvania, another from the spaces, mostly wide and always open. Two guards from Chicago and Dartmouth, a center from California, three of the four horse-men and the inevitable Grange. That is the writers conception of the All-American football team for the season of 1924.

Tryon One of Colgate's Best

By Telegraph to The Freeman.
Hamilton, Dec. 15.—J. Edward "Eddie" Tryon of Southwick, Mass., who has just been chosen by his teammates to lead the 1925 Colgate gridiron team, is one of the greatest backs ever turned out at Colgate, ranking with Huntington, Gillo, Anderson and Webster, names that have an exalted place in Colgate's athletic history.

For three years the mighty Tryon has led his team in scoring. In these campaigns he has scored no less than 39 touchdowns for a total of 234 points. For two seasons the brilliant work of Tryon has been known all over the country, wherever and whenever Colgate football has been discussed. During the past two campaigns he has been second and third in scoring in the east, besides proving to be one of the best football players in this part of the football world.

Tryon is a triple threat star of unusual ability. Throughout the past season he was the team's punter and his boots have been far above the average. He has developed into a capable forward passer. He has caught punts, wicked off, caught passes, and was the best interfeer and the surest tackler in the Maroon backfield. As a broken field runner, whom there is no stopping once he is through the first defense, he has few equals in the grid world.

Against Ohio State last year, the Colgate ace made 390 yards in carrying the ball 12 times. In his first year on the varsity, he ran wild against Columbia, scoring 5 touchdowns. In fact in every game during the past three years the work of Tryon has been outstanding. In defeat as well as in victory, he has been the mainstay of the Maroon eleven.
